

The Inga-Britt Lindström grant award 2010

Background

The Swedish Association of Occupational Therapists (FSA) has established a grant award in the name of Inga-Britt Lindström to recognize her long commitment and unwavering effort as the president of the Swedish Association of Occupational Therapists from 1978 until 2008. During this time, Inga-Britt Lindström has promoted occupational therapy – the development of teaching, research and clinical practice – with great dedication in Sweden and throughout the world. The award foundation is based upon annual allocations from FSA as well as contributions from individual FSA members and other interests in Sweden.

Grant Applicants

FSA invites applications from foreign occupational therapists and occupational therapy students. The grant is offered to individuals or teams from countries where occupational therapy is under development.

Purpose and use

The purpose of the grant is to support the development of occupational therapy in the applicant's native country. Its function is intended to promote the obtaining of knowledge of occupational therapy through participation in national and international workshops, seminars and conferences, as well as travel to Sweden for education, research and/or practical studies. Thus, the grant is anticipated to be used to supplement in part the costs associated with activities such as:

- expenditures incurred during studies in Sweden at the doctorate or masters level related to research and education in occupational therapy.
- presenting an abstract at WFOT or COTEC congresses.
- visits to Sweden aimed at gathering extensive knowledge of occupational therapy practice.
